DUXBURY, Mass., July 27.—The people of Duxbury, with invited guests, to-day celebrated the completion of the French Atlantic Cable. The demonstration is in large part due to Alexander Bill. It was a splendid affair, with 21 hundred-pound firing pieces. Hon. A.H. Dutton, Prefect of the Commercial Arrondissement, called the assembly to order in fitting remarks, after which Rev. Jeremiah Moore, of Duxbury, offered prayer. After the dinner had been discussed the following toasts were gone through with:

To the Town of Duxbury—Its inhabitants, the descendants of the Pilgrim fathers who first set foot on the soil of New England; may they ever be found in the front rank, maintaining the honor of their forefathers, perpetuating the honor of their name, and the world shall know that the spirit of the Pilgrims still lives.

At the conclusion of the regular toasts the following despatch from Paris was received:

PARIS, July 27.—To Mr. Dutton, Duxbury, Mass.: The Prefect of Paris requests you to present his congratulations to the Mayor of Boston and the committee, hoping that the Mayor of Boston will accept his congratulations.

The Mayor stated that he had sent the following in reply:

DETROIT, Mass., July 27, 1869.

To His Excellency, the Prefect of Paris: The Mayor of Boston sends a most hearty response to the congratulations of the Prefect of Paris on the completion of the telegraphic line between Europe and America. The Mayor of Boston extends to the Prefect of Paris his most cordial congratulations in the same spirit.

By James Anderson, Esq., ex-resident, Gateshead on Tyne, England, and Boston, Mass.: The Queen, which in thought wholly due to the officers of the vessels which laid and repaired. The Queen of England and the Emperor of the French, the authors of the splendid Atlantic Cable. Hon. James Anderson claimed that to Cyrus W. Field, more than to any other man, the world is indebted for success of the Atlantic Cable. He had learnt that Mr. Field opposed the landing of the French cable, and he would inform the people of Paris of the fact. That gentleman is largely interested in the Atlantic cable, and it is but natural that he should defend his interests. Mr. Anderson, who is a Democrat, then showed out red-cut coat and tore it to shreds, amid the cheers of the assembly. He had also heard that some other opposition had been made to the landing of the cable, which effort also he had defeated. He could not enlighten, but he had no fear that any intrigue could undermine the American people to act ethically, and allow institutions of liberty to languish. He was glad to see the cable landed.

By E. Tenny, Receiver Cent. Georgia R. Loring and Charles Levi Woodbury made brief addresses, and the company was dismissed.

The love in the evening, at Mr. Wright's house, was very quiet and exclusive.

SUPREME COURT OF ILLINOIS.

In the matter of the petition of Thomas Brown, et al., for a writ of habeas corpus. Petitioners were committed by the Criminal Court of Cook County, on the charge of stealing a quantity of old rubbish, the property of Mr. Chase, the owner of the Opera House. The petitioners claim that the property was of no value, and that they had no intention of stealing it. The Court refused to discharge the petitioners, and they appealed to this Court.

Mr. JUDD said that the question involved in this case was one of great importance, and he hoped that the Court would take time to consider it. He would not argue the case at present, but would submit a brief.

Mr. JUDD. The question involved in the case is whether the petitioners are guilty of the crime charged in the indictment.
